Spotlight on Kathleen Levering: A Career of Dedication and Excellence in Wound Care

As Ostomy Awareness Month comes to a close, NAWCO is proud to highlight Kathleen Levering, BSN, RN, WCC, OMS, ACHRN, an outstanding healthcare professional who has made significant contributions to wound care and patient well-being for over four decades. Currently serving as the Hyperbaric Safety Director at LifeBridge Health in Randallstown, MD, Kathleen has been a certified Wound Care Clinician (WCC) since 2010 and earned her Ostomy Management Specialist (OMS) certification earlier this year.

Kathleen's commitment to her patients and her field has been recognized with numerous awards. She was honored in Baltimore Magazine's "Excellence in Nursing" issue in both 2018 and 2020, celebrating her exceptional work in Community and Ambulatory Care, as well as Rehabilitation. This prestigious recognition is awarded to healthcare professionals who consistently go above and beyond in their care and dedication.

Outside of her clinical work, Kathleen is deeply engaged in her community. She regularly participates in Making Strides Against Breast Cancer events alongside her family, and during the COVID-19 pandemic, she offered blood pressure screenings at her church to help identify early warning signs of health issues. Additionally, she frequently volunteers at community events hosted by LifeBridge Health, further demonstrating her commitment to improving the well-being of those around her.

NAWCO is honored to have Kathleen as a credential holder. Her passion for patient care, combined with her outstanding leadership and service, makes her this month's Outstanding WCC. Please join us in congratulating Kathleen on her remarkable career and continued dedication to improving lives.
